

PROFILE

I live life with curiosity and a passion for learning, always striving to leave things better than I found them. I believe in the inherent goodness of people and the importance of extending grace to ourselves and others as we go through life.

Life can be challenging, but I find embracing humor and taking the time to appreciate the little things make life that much better. Gratitude and thankfulness go a long way.

I am open minded and can be spontaneous but am also content with a daily routine. Life is not an Instagram real but that doesn't mean it can't be fun. Coffee!
